The museum's entrance courtyard can be seen from the city's rive Roof Floor Plan 1:200 Enshrouding and embracing incoming visitors, this space then forks towards the cloakroom and cafeteria, souvenir shop and bar. The ramp leading from the entrance hall to the 4th-level temporary galleries assumes a separate track, which ventures underground, galleries assumes a separate track, which ventures underground, winding out of sight.

From the entrance hall, visitors can take the escalator, two elevators, service lifts or two staircases to reach all floors, making all parts of the museum accessible.

The uniqueness of the museum's traffic flow lies in the fact that gradually, layer by layer, visitors walk throughout the establishment, all the way to the roof terrace, where they can fully appreciate the empty spaces, now that they have soaked in the multifaceted experience and ample taxonomic information. Level 04 Roof level during winter *Roof Terrace Visitors can enjoy a restaurant, with 360° elevated view of the island and cityscape. An open air amphitheatre can host special events and shows independently of museum activities, and is accessible by both escalators and directly from the secondary entrance elevator. Level 01 Roof level during summer Level 00 Vehicle path to -01 level +27 Level -01 Free Admission to Museum ---- Visitor Paths *Flower Shop: The shop brings together the produce grown and collected around the building, allowing visitors to take home a flower bouquet, as a souvenir from their visit to the museum. *In the south wing, visitors can enjoy *Escalator Space: the café, with outside and inside The imposing 25m-tall escalator space bathes seating options facing the hill, visit in day light from a skylight at its top. souvenir and flower shops, or take Taking visitors along continuous, uninterrupted the elevator all the way to the path from the entrance through the display galleries and all the way to the roof terrace, it offers different perspectives that blend interiors with the landscape unfolding around. Ground Floor Plan 1:200 Main entrance